Selecting laptop computers for your business—It certainly seems that the choices are many and the process is, at best, difficult. So many factors to consider... What's a good brand? Which one do I need to do what I need to do? How much memory do I need? What brand of processor should I look for? What do the processor numbers even mean? Which ones are really well-built? What kind of warranty should I look for? Who offers great technical support and the best service experience? From whom should I buy? And then there's the problem of not even knowing what questions to ask.

When you're talking about spending any amount of dollars, especially if they're coming from a dwindling budget, you need to set yourself up for success by working with people who can remove all of the guesswork and can help you make an informed decision.

We have observed and participated in the world of small business technology for many years. We've learned what works and what doesn't, and we've learned how to properly match available technology to small business workplace needs. As a result, we've created a number of complete, ready-to-use laptop packages that we regularly use and trust and confidently make available to our customers.

Whether you are at your office desk or on the road or on your patio, we know that you cannot afford to have equipment problems. The laptop packages that we feature each month are built around high-quality, brand new or factory refurbished laptop computers of different sizes and configurations from primarily two major manufacturers that we trust—HP and Lenovo. The selections come only from their business-grade lines—not from the big-box or discount store consumer lines, and they are uncompromising. They combine high-end performance with unmatched durability, and each is backed by a 3-year Next-Business-Day, On-Site warranty.

The laptop computer serves as a centerpiece of a complete, professionally prepared, optimized and tested, hardware and software package that is specifically personalized for your use, all of which leads to... you open the shipment; you follow the instructions that we provide to properly unpack and connect all of the package components; you power on the laptop; and soon the Windows desktop appears and prompts you—by name—to login. And then you're ready to work.

It really is this easy—we've been doing it for ourselves and for our customers since 1982. 🐰
